IAN CAWICH MD

INTERVENTIONAL CARDIOLOGY

Dr. Ian Cawich is originally from Belize and came to the United States to attend Harding University in Searcy. He graduated from Harding in 1994 with a Bachelor of Science in biochemistry. He then attended graduate school at University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences, earning his master's degree in pharmaceutical sciences. Dr. Cawich stayed at UAMS to attend medical school. He completed his internship and residency in internal medicine there, followed by a fellowship in cardiovascular disease and interventional cardiology, which he successfully completed in June 2009. He is now working with Arkansas Heart Hospital Clinic and Arkansas Heart Hospital.

Dr. Cawich lives in Little Rock with his wife Melissa, a native of Searcy, and his sons Christopher and Noah. Dr. Cawich is a sports enthusiast and is interested in all things computer related.

DR. CAWICH SPECIALIZES IN INTERVENTIONAL CARDIOLOGY.

Interventional cardiologists treat coronary artery disease, heart valve disorders, congenital heart disease and more through nonsurgical, catheter-based procedures and specialized imaging techniques. Arkansas Heart Hospital's eight catheterization labs feature advanced equipment, known throughout the healthcare industry for outstanding image quality and low x-ray radiation dose to both the patient and staff. The hospital is a globally recognized cardiac training center.
